THE BUSH YEARS Supreme Cruelty

EDITORIAL

BILL CLINTON FOR PRESIDENT By Jann S. Wenner 15
This election offers a rare possibility for true change: Clinton in the White House will mean the values we inherited from the Sixties will shape the nation.

ROCK & ROLL

BACK ON THE CHARTS By Steve Hochman 25
Smack makes a comeback as the drug of choice among young alternative and hard-rock musicians.

FEATURE STORIES

BILL CLINTON The Rolling Stone Interview by William Greider, P.J. O'Rourke, Hunter S. Thompson and Jann S. Wenner 40
The Rolling Stone political team meets the candidate at Doe's Eat Place, in downtown Little Rock, for some solid talk about the future of America.

PLUS: GREIDER ON BIG TALK IN LITTLE ROCK, 42 ... O'ROURKE ON PULLING THE DONKEY LEVER, 47 ... DR. THOMPSON ON MR. BILL'S NEIGHBORHOOD, 55

LOLLAPALOOZA '92 By Kim Neely 60
Has the commercial success of bands like the Chili Peppers, Pearl Jam and Soundgarden tainted the revolutionary air of Perry Farrell's rock & roll circus?

CLINT EASTWOOD By David Breskin 66
In the Rolling Stone Interview, the director of Unforgiven talks about his metamorphosis from dusty legend to film visionary.

ON CAMPUS

THE FALL OF ANIMAL HOUSE By Eric Konigberg 73
The party's over at Dartmouth's Alpha Delta. The fraternity that inspired Animal House must follow the rules – or die.

COLLEGE NOTEBOOK By Jeff Giles 79
Take notes. From recommended recordings to microwave menus, here's stuff collegians oughta know before heading back to campus.

PROFESSORS OF POP By Dan Zevin 83
There are some teachers who realize that rock is music just as worthy of "appreciation" as the classics – but don't take their classes looking for an easy A.

REVIEWS

BOBBY BROWN By J.D. Considine 90
Bobby isn't much more than a high-gloss Don't Be Cruel II. Also reviewed: New releases by Ministry, Helmet, Graham Parker and L7.

BOB ROBERTS By Peter Travers 101
Tim Robbins is a smarmy, folk-singing senatorial candidate hawking dreams in this timely political satire.

RALPH J. GLEASON (1917-1975)

Springsteen with Taliefero

I was in a blur for the first month," says CRYSTAL TALIEFERO, the guitar and conga player cum saxophonist-singer who has been turning heads at BRUCE SPRINGSTEEN shows. "Bruce never does the same thing. We learn songs at sound check." And despite the accolades being lobbed at her, she oughta get used to staying on her toes when her boss designs the set list. "You have to keep it present and living," says Springsteen. "You can't let it get embalmed along the way."

TBONE BURNETT is redefining laid-back. Not only is he playing concerts in the homes of fans lucky

NOTABLE NEWS

Lawyers for RITA MARLEY told a federal court that she signed her late husband's name on a number of documents after his death. Marley, however, says she did not know that the papers gave her control of his music companies. The administrator of Bob Marley's estate is seeking $42 million in the case. Under Jamaican law, the bulk of the estate would have been divided among his eleven children. . . . DON HENLEY made a surprise appearance onstage with MOJO NIXON in Austin, Texas, to sing "Don Henley Must Die." Nixon's official response noted that Henley had "balls the size of church bells." . . . The GRATEFUL DEAD have canceled five shows while JERRY GARCIA recuperates from exhaustion. . . . SLAUGHTER lead singer MARK SLAUGHTER underwent surgery to have a node removed from his vocal cords. . . . Failing to note what happened to Suzanne Somers, SALT-N-PEPA will appear with JOHN RITTER in the movie 'Stay Tuned.'

enough to win local radio contests, he refuses to discuss sales of his bracing new treasure, The Criminal Under My Own Hat. "I don't live in the competitive world," says Burnett. "For poets to compete creates a metaphysical doubt that poisons everyone. Everyone's in competition. The best it can do is inspire envy, and that's a completely destructive human faculty."

SHANNON HOON doesn't mind being recognized from the GUNS N' ROSES video for "Don't Cry." Just and funk-laced hard rock that they didn't try to name it. "This is like a titleless book," says Hoon, "made up of thirteen different chapters."

Love (left) with Spector

Making A Christmas Gift for You with PHIL SPECTOR, I wondered if we'd get away with rockin'," says DARLENE LOVE. "I guess we did." Now, nearly thirty years later, Love and RONNIE SPECTOR have contributed their first-ever duet to the Special Olympics' Very Special Christmas II. "It's great to see Darlene," says Ronnie. "When I was with Phil, I never saw anybody."
